WM. HATTICH, Editor and Prop.

It is strange how troubles will follow a man. Caleb Powers, who was twice sentenced to hang in Kentucky, is now a candidate for congress.

Judging it from the many propositions presented the constitutional convention is not apt to finish its task of making the constitution within thirty days as was first predicted.

Men are often judged by the associates they keep.

Colonel Roosevelt went up in the air at St. Louis—with Aviator Hoxsey. He liked it and the air didn't mind it.

"Grass widows" will be plentiful at the county seat from now on—district court convenes Monday.

Divorce law is a necessary evil to those poor, unhappy and mismatched couples.

The cure for the divorce evil is to not marry at all unless you are able to make a choice that will stick to you through thick and thin.

A good booster is worth his weight in gold to any community.

In the constitutional convention of Arizona there are found 14 lawyers, 6 cattlemen, 4 ranchmen, 4 merchants, 2 sheepmen, 2 mining men, 2 miners, 2 physicians, and one each from the following callings, Farmer, mining engineer, mechanic, capitalist, railroad engineer, machinist, switchman, plumber, clerk, traffic expert, minister, banker, saloonkeeper, newspaper man and a railroad man. This certainly ought to be a representative body, including 23 different occupations.

Tombstone, our own Tombstone. Boost for its schools and churches; for its business houses and homes and for its vast untouched mineral resources.

The public schools of Tombstone are making a rapid progress, and the people of the city take a special pride in its schools and the bright lot of children. This is as it should be—show us a city of good schools and a lot of well behaved and manly boys and girls and we will point you out a city of happy homes and thoughtful parents whose intelligence is way above the average mortals.

New Postmistress At Pearce

A Washington dispatch says. Violet Haddy has been appointed postmistress at Pearce. Vice, D. F. Lumbridge, resigned.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS OF INTEREST CONDENSED.

Douglas is now a part of the army. Company G. N. G. A., has been mustered in by Col. Tutill, who made the trip from Phoenix on purpose for the ceremony. A Douglas paper says that the ceremony occurred at a rather skilful. This was probably to avoid unnecessary delay.

Miss Charlotte Hall, territorial historian, is gathering data for her history of Arizona. During the past few months she has visited all of the northern counties and received enough press notices to start a bureau. That all of them were complimentary is an unnecessary statement.

Territorial papers say that quail season so far is a forty percent failure. At any rate the quail are not sitting around waiting for the toast to be served.

Bisbee may soon be as much in the dark as the weather bureau. The gas company is on the rocks, the Los Angeles Trust company having demanded a receiver for the concern, which is said to be in financial shallows.

The cold wave which appeared a few days ago has been general throughout the territory, and in some parts the thermometer dropped close to the freezing point. Stores are being re-established, and straw hats have disappeared.

The district court of Yuma county has been adjourned until December 22. Judge Campbell was called from the bench at Yuma by the death of his wife, and engagements elsewhere make impossible the resumption of the term until the date specified.

Tucson is rejoicing over the removal of a family to this city from Phoenix on the grounds that the latter place is "too hot."

Globe is aggrieved because a new parlor car sent to that city service between Globe and Bowie is not equipped with a buffet. Two drinkless hours ought not to be such a hardship, even for Globe.

President K. C. Babcock of the university of Arizona, will leave that institution early in December to become a specialist in higher education in a bureau of the department of the interior, to which he has been appointed by secretary of the interior Ballinger. President Babcock has tendered his resignation to the regents of the university. President Babcock came to Arizona seven years ago from the University of California.

Word has reached Douglas that Tooley received the award for the territorial road between Douglas and Lowell.

A number of the subjects of Russia and Austria who reside in Arizona have received notices from consuls of those nations, located at Denver, that they must immediately visit the consulates and have their measures taken to be sent to the home governments. These subjects of both Russia and Austria, who fill the military requirements will then be ordered to return to their native lands and go into the armies for the enforced military training.

Ash Fork is passing into another sphere in criminal transactions, and comes to the front with an incendiary line of misdeeds that is exciting to property holders. Two of these have been reported, one at the vacant building of Ed Shiveley, and the other in the big store of John Foley.

There are very plain indications that the work of boring the tunnel under the Colorado will begin about the latter part of the current month. Officials of the reclamation service have not announced this as a fact, but unless some unexpected occurrence causes further delay this beginning work on the final unit of the great project may be looked for within the next two weeks.

Dr. James Douglas, president of the Phelps-Dodge company, has left for New York.

Lyman W. Banker, of the Merchants' National bank of Boston, who is touring the western states while at Prescott was the guest of R. N. Fredricks, president of the Prescott National bank. He expressed himself in favorable terms of the industrial condition of the country.

At Globe William Dobson and Harry Roberts left for Phoenix in Dobson's automobile. They are going by way of Tucson, Florence and Mesa. Dobson will remain in the capital city until after the territorial fair. He expects to use his machine to carry passengers during fair week. He may locate there.

Carrying himself with the demeanor of an unsophisticated youth and making the play good with the garb that indicated that he was fresh from the rural districts, a smooth check artist has left for parts unknown, with at least $100 that he received for the sacking at Prescott.

Twenty-five Bisbee people have formed a co-operative association for mutual benefit in farming their land, and have taken up nearly 9,000 acres of ground in the Antelope valley about 45 miles east of Yuma.

A long swift trip in three autos over the sands to Florence and a rattling good ball game after they got there, is a diversion which the Tucson All-Stars have arranged with the Florence team, only the date being open. The date will be settled as soon as it is known when three automobiles can be secured for two days.

At Globe for several hours a scrap of paper apparently worthless was blown about the streets. It was a check for $109.90, signed, endorsed and all ready to be cashed. Meanwhile the owner of the check, R. L. Lee, a goat raiser, searched in vain for the check. It was found by accident by F. L. Gates, clerk of the board of supervisors, who turned it in at the bank. Lee was notified that his money was safe.

As Tucson has no ordinance which covers the matter, Mayor Jacobus felt compelled to permit the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight pictures at a local amusement house.

On account of the large number of horses that are running loose on the range and which carry good rewards, although it seems impossible to get a horse when it is once on the range, some of the Williams residents are raising funds to defray the expenses of a general roundup for the purpose of finding out what has become of these horses.

Advising Tucsonians to withhold contributions from supposed Salvation Army workers until official word comes from the Denver intermountain headquarters, Ensign Hankins of Denver has closed the work there.

Reports from the Gila valley, in the west end of Graham county, are to the effect that on account of lack of rain, feed and water are so scarce that some of the cattlemen are rounding up their stock preparatory to transferring them to the ranges in the vicinity of Fort Apache. In the Gila river in that section there is no water running though the San Carlos is still flowing "fairly well."

The big power plant in Kingman, with its two units in operation, is destined to be one of the largest steam generating plants on the Pacific coast. The third unit is now being constructed and will give the plant a capacity of 3000 horse power under ordinary pressure and 6000 horse power under high pressure. This unit is being built with a view of adding to it with a minimum of expense in the future. Twenty-five men are working on the plant and expect to have it complete in sixty days.

Having interviewed the Yaqui Indians who were reported to be invading Arizona armed to the teeth, Deputy Sheriff Joe Escobedo telephoned to Tucson from the Sierritas that the Yaquis say they are merely emigrating from the hostile country in Mexico, and mean no harm.

The nimrods who choose southern Arizona and Sonora for their hunting this fall have been having fine sport. Never before have the deer and bear been so plentiful since the country became settled up by the white man.

William Casey Burk states that he has solved the problem of perpetual motion and the transmutation of metals. He goes back to the first principle and begins with the atom which he puts in two classes. He is working on a theory that there are but two basic elements and that all the metal universe is made up in various combinations of these two elements. Burk has written a treatise on his theory and has had it copyrighted.

As the result of a meeting of the Yuma Bar association, the Yuma delegates to the constitutional convention will be instructed to lend their best efforts to have a district court located there, instead of being joined to the Tucson district as at present.

The District

Court Doings

TUESDAY

Court convened at 9 a. m., today after the call of the special venire of grand jurors the following grand jury was officially sworn in:

W. P. Covert W. E. Golding
A. T. Flannigan Henry Ash
F. M. Abrams J. S. Merrill
E. M. Marks H. J. Blanchet
J. W. Cull Nick Noble
Charles Holts A. S. Johnston
J. F. Combs C. E. Cummings
Ollie Phillips J. A. Fitch
Guy Strickland C. B. Tarbell
Thos. Smith Ben Cook

W. F. Kochenbaker

J. W. Cull was appointed foreman and Chas. Melgren, bailiff.

The grand jury lost no time but proceeded to work immediately and from the make up of that body we look for the business of the county to be handled in a most business-like manner.

Some forty prisoners were brought into court and record made of their attorneys.

George Gallon was sworn in as official interpreter for the term and John Walker as official reporter for the grand jury.

In the case of the territory vs. Lard, et al, the bond of Clarence Wille was challenged and a new bond executed which lets Wille go on his own recognizance.

D. L. Moore Distillery company vs. J. Jernigan, judgment was granted the defendant.

Arizona Bank and Trust company vs. L. C. and Beulah Hanks, the case having been settled out of court it was dismissed.

The calling of the court calendar will be taken up at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

WEDNESDAY

Court was in session today and presented a busy scene. Today was set for the call of the calendar for the term, and nearly all the attorneys of the county were present to arrange for setting dates for trial of their various cases.

Quite a number of cases were dismissed and judging it from the dates fixed for hearing of cases, court will be in continuous session until after the holidays.

About ten days recess will be taken on Nov. 7th for the supreme court session and will permit litigants and court attendants to see the Fair at Phoenix.

The grand jury is busy and many witnesses are being examined on cases before that body. The fact that today was circus day in Bisbee caused a few jurors to look longingly toward the big Copper Ca. ap but the call of duty restrained any interruption in the operations of the grand jury and all members heroically remained at their posts.

Among the out of town attorneys who were noted in court today were: Geo. Neal, D. K. Flora, Albert Barnes, A. C. Lockwood, A. Y. Wright, J. C. Gungl, J. M. O'Connell, D. A. Richardson, L. H. Hays, Robt. Frunch, J. F. Ross, J. Taylor, Francis Hartman, and Col. J. H. Martin.

Making the Arizona Constitution

A total of eighty-three propositions covering nearly every phase of the constitution have been introduced.

Jones of Maricopa has introduced a proposition making provision for state officers to be chosen by the electors at large, as follows: Governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state auditor, attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, chief justice, clerk of supreme court, three corporation commissioners.

Webb introduced a proposition making provision that the first legislature shall create a railroad commission and provide whether the members shall be appointed or elected, and to consist of not more than five persons.

Crutchfield introduced a proposition relating to the exemption from taxation of schools, churches and kindred institutions.

A number of propositions were read the second time Saturday and referred to the proper committees.

It is understood that a proposition providing for the advisory vote on the first United States senators from Arizona, as well as those thereafter, will be introduced. So far all propositions have left that to the legislature.

The total amount of expense, of the constitutional convention, including the expense of the election, which can only be estimated until complete reports are received by the secretary's office, is reported as $10,799.85, of which $10,799.85 has been spent by and for the convention.

The proposition for the separate submission of state-wide prohibition is now in the hands of the committee on separate submission. It was read a second time yesterday and referred.

Fourteen other propositions were read and referred to the proper committees, including the recall, railroad commission, convict labor on roads, banking, and other propositions. The committees now have a great deal of work ahead of them and it is likely that the sessions of the convention will be short until the different propositions are considered in the committee of the whole, when lively debates may be expected.

The following new propositions have been introduced:

No. 84, by Simms of Graham, regarding homesteads and the amount of tax exemption thereon.

No. 85, by Cunningham, relating to the issuance of civil licenses.

No. 86, by Cunningham, provision that no license shall be levied on any form of manual labor.

No. 87, by Cunningham, regarding homesteads and tax exemption.

No. 88, by Cunniff, which provides that no limit shall be placed upon the amount in suits for recovery for personal injury; abolishes the fellow-servant law.

No. 89, by Cunniff, regarding the import of alien contract labor.

No. 90, by Jones of Yavapai, is short, sweet and to the point, covering very fully in a dozen lines the manner of holding primaries.

The constitutional convention, yesterday afternoon, adopted the following preamble, proposed by Baker of Maricopa:

"We, the people of the state of Arizona, grateful to almighty God for our liberties, do ordain this constitution."

The most interesting item in the declaration of rights is a declaration against capital punishment. This will undoubtedly be strongly opposed and a rather interesting discussion of views on the subject may come up in the committee of the whole.

Jones of Maricopa introduced a proposition relative to amendments and direct legislation.

Kinney offered a proposition prohibiting the employment of alien laborers who cannot speak English in underground mines or hazardous occupations.

Kinney offered a proposition relating to the qualification for United States senators, providing that they shall have been residents of the state for five years. "Carpet baggers" would have no show under this provision.

Cooper introduced a proposition on declaration of rights prohibiting imprisonment for debt and guaranteeing trial by jury.

Kinney filed a proposal dividing the state government into the three classes, executive, judicial and legislative.

Marquez Sentence Commuted

A Phoenix dispatch says: Governor Sloan today commuted the sentence of Francisco Marquez now in the territorial penitentiary, from death to life imprisonment.

Three times a date was set for the execution of Marquez, but each time the Mexican government interceded in his behalf.

Hard labor upon the new territorial penitentiary and Gila bridge at Florence has secured for John L. McDowell a commutation of a year and a half from his original sentence of 4 years imposed for embezzling the funds of the Union Bank & Trust company of Phoenix of which he was formerly cashier.

Pardons were granted to the following prisoners from Cochise county: Carlos Varless convicted of assault with deadly weapon and sentenced to one year in penitentiary, May 11 of this year.

Manuel Ballesteros, convicted of aggravated assault and given one-year sentence, June 2, 1910.

B. W. Norton Chief of the Bisbee Fire Department is in attendance on court.

Joe Cannon of Bisbee is in the city.

A card received from the Rev. C. W. Meyers, formerly pastor of the Congregational Church of Tombstone, says that he is now located at Avon Park, Florida, and is getting along nicely and is highly pleased with his present pastorate. Rev. Meyers has many friends here who are pleased to hear of his doing well.

Clerk James announced that there had not been an application for divorce tickets for several days. He is filling out about 75 however in blank, ready for the action of the district court when it begins to straighten out matrimonial knicks.

Have you Seen the Ding-a-ling Toque?

Have you seen the ding-a-ling toque? The very latest! It came to town yesterday crowning a tall slim miss. It was of vivid green plush or something that looked plushy. It resembled Mambrino's helmet after Mambrino had pulled it down over his ears and turned up the edges to resemble a big Basham. But it's the latest.

We Wonder

Will Teddy will come to Tombstone?

Four mines do not possess just about as much merit and extent as any in the county?

If our transportation facilities are not a threat better than in cities further away from the trans-continental lines?

If our fruits and vegetables are not finer and fresher than those which some of our big sisters find it necessary to import 900 miles?

If the check is not a bit clearer, the eye brighter and the carriage more spry in this "Edenized" one among the clouds, where one needs a blanket every night, and never more than two?

have several funerals a day? If we are not surrounded by a veritable codon of magnificent mining districts, while other places have to squat on just one?

If a more quietly conducted municipal campaign is to be found elsewhere than in Tombstone?

Peculiar Friendship Observed in Tombstone

Among other peculiar sights to be observed on the streets of Tombstone, is the remarkable, Jonathan and David, five relations which have been established between a big white bull dog and a burro. These animals are inseparable. The dog may take the sidewalk occasionally and drift away forty or fifty feet, but is sure to join up with his partner a little further on. After a brief separation, the dog will meet up with the wooly burro, the latter will drop his head and the dog will lick him affectionately on the nose.

When forcibly separated the dog seems to show his grief more strongly than the burro, but while the one whines pitifully the other brays lustily. Some remarkable things about the old county seat.

An Arizona schoolgirl was required to write an essay of 250 words about an automobile. She submitted the following: "My uncle bought an automobile. He was riding out in the country when it busted going up a long hill. I guess this is about 50 words." The other 200 are what my uncle said while he was walking back to town, but they are not fit for publication.

Assistant District Attorney J. W. Murphy prosecuted the bad men for pistol perforation of the atmosphere on the Gila. He enriched the treasury $175. Nine cowpunchers at $25 fine and $10 costs; a rather expensive luxury the midnight shoot-up.

The Secret of Youth

Do you ever wonder how you can remain young, or why other women older than you, look younger than you do? The secret can be put in a few words: "Preserve your health, and you will preserve your youth."

By "health" we mean not alone physical health, but nerve health, as, sometimes, magnificently strong-looking women are nervous wrecks.

But whether you are weak physically or nervously, you need a tonic, and the best tonic for you is Cardui.

It builds strength for the physical and nervous systems. It helps put flesh on your bones and vitality into your nerves.

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"My mother," writes Mrs. Z. L. Adcock, of Smithville, Tenn., "is 44 years old and is passing through the change of life."

"She was irregular and bloated and suffered terribly. My father stepped over to the store and got her a bottle of Cardui, which she took according to directions and now she is up, able to do her housework and says she feels like a new woman." Try Cardui in your own case.
